

GREAT MINDS THINK ALIKE

Print one copy of this game sheet for the moderator. Co-workers are divided into two teams, each player is provided with a pen and a sheet of paper.

Moderator starts calling out each question one by one. Each player writes down the first three things that come to their mind for each question. After all the questions have been announced, count how many people on each team wrote same word/answer that another of their team members wrote down. Points are awarded based on how many people have similar words, for example:

- 3 points for every word that 3 people have in common
- 4 points for every word that 4 people have in common
- 5 points for every word that 5 or more people have in common

Feel free to adjust point values by the size of your teams

Here are the top 10 questions for you to start with:
